

GOOD GROWS
HERE

Confidentiality Policy

The Pella Community Foundation maintains a policy of confidentiality with respect to all donors and prospective donors to the fullest extent possible. All information related to donors and prospective donors remains privileged and confidential. No information is discussed or released without the express permission of the donor or prospective donor. Any information released without express permission of the donor or prospective donor by any employee or representative of the Foundation will result in immediate action by the Board with possible termination of employment or relationship with the Foundation. These policies apply to Directors, staff and anyone else who has access to confidential information.